Waterproof at Mannington—Crushed His Skull—State of Fine Stock—Innocent Ink—Negro Captured—Three Assassinations—Base Ball.

Won Two From Henderson.

The Hopkinsville ball team won two more victories this week, defeating Henderson, on the latter's grounds, Tuesday and Wednesday, by the scores of 12 to 4 and 18 to 5. Our local team played Owensboro yesterday and will have another game today with the same club. The next four games in this city will be played next week. Henderson will be here Monday and Tuesday and Owensboro Thursday and Friday. All the clubs in the league have been strengthened recently and the games to be played next week will be first-class and should be witnessed by large crowds. Maurice Hoard has arrived from Toledo, O., and will finish the season with Hopkinsville.

Change of O. V. Time Card.

Another change of schedule went into effect on the Ohio Valley road Sunday. The afternoon mail train now leaves this city at 3:30 instead of 3:05, arriving at Princeton at 4:45, and the morning passenger arrives at 11:30, instead of 11:40. No. 3, the night train, now arrives at 9:50, instead of 9:40. The morning passenger out of this city leaves at 5:20, the old time. The change was made in order to make connection with the C. O. & S. W. at Princeton, that road having recently made several important changes in its time card.

No More Camp Meeting at Sebree.

There will be no camp meeting at Sebree this year. The recently adjourned session of the Methodist district conference at Morganfield, decided that the best interest of the church demanded the discontinuance of the camp meeting. The sentiment against the proposition to have the meeting was so unanimous that there seems to be no possibility of having the decision rescinded, although many are of the opinion that much good would result should a meeting be held this year.

A Regular Waterpout.

A little flood visited the Mannington country Sunday morning last and did great damage both to livestock and other property. It was a regular waterpout and lasted for an hour or more. The T. & N. depot at that place washed from its pilings and came near being upset. The track was washed out for several hundred yards, delaying trains for several hours. Many sheep, cows and chickens were drowned and hundreds of panels of fencing were carried away. The rain fall was the heaviest in that section for forty years.

Crushed the Jailor's Skull.

A negro prisoner, confined in the Dyer, Tenn., jail, attacked jailer Joseph Condy and broke his skull with a slate from a bed, beating him fearfully. Afterward the negro, who had been arrested only a short time before, on the charge of larceny, stole the jail keys from the prostrate officer and made his escape. He had not been captured at last accounts. There is said to be no hope for the recovery of the jailer.

N. B. Butterworth & Co., merchants at Hazel, Calloway county, made an assignment Monday to S. H. Dees. Liabilities about $5,500, with assets to cover same. At Murray J. R. Faris, who ran a racket store, was locked up on attachments sued out by creditors. Mr. Faris, with his brother, H. P. Faris, formerly did business in this city and later in Clarksville.

Big Sale of Short Horn Stock.

Messrs. John T. and Jesse Evans, prominent stock men of Trenton, shipped $2,500 worth of short horns to Louisville this week. Evans Brothers are live cattle men and are making a great success of the business. The Evans boys are from this county and their many friends will learn with pleasure of their prosperity.

The Dawson Ink Well.

Mr. J. H. Hicks, of Dawson, has had the water from his "ink well" analyzed. It contains very valuable properties such as a specific for bronchial coughs, and is proving very valuable to consumptive patients. Mr. Hicks will at once take steps to put the merits of this water before the public and believe he has a good thing of it.

Caught a Henderson Negro.

Chief Fritz arrested Douglas Owensley, col., on a warrant from Henderson county charging housebreaking. Officer Sam Walker took the prisoner over to Henderson Wednesday night and delivered him up to the authorities there.

KILLED HIS SON-IN-LAW.

Clarksville The Scene of a Domestic Tragedy.

Clarksville, June 1.—Bad feeling of about a year's standing caused a domestic tragedy in South Clarksville this evening. David Halliburton shot his son-in-law, J. T. Hite, a carpenter, who came here from Nashville, killing him almost instantly. The report of the killing is that the men met, words, caused and Halliburton drew a revolver and fired, the shot taking effect in Hite's stomach. The men grappled, Halliburton being knocked down, but it is said to have fired three more shots, and all four bullets took effect, three entering Hite's stomach and one passing through his mouth. Hite breathed only a few times.

Halliburton surrendered to the police, and is in jail. He refused to make a statement to-night, declaring that he was in much pain from injuries on his arm and back inflicted by Hite. The cause which led up to the tragedy was the elopement last summer of Hite's 16-year-old daughter, Annie, Hite being more than twice her age. The young lady had attended church with her mother, but stole away with Hite during services, and the couple were married in a carriage by Magistrate Caldwell in front of his residence. Halliburton attempted to kill Hite on the night of the elopement, shooting him in the back of the head. Halliburton was tried and acquitted of this charge. Halliburton's people stand well, but Hite was an unknown man.

THE CONVENTION.

A TEMPORARY ORGANIZATION EFFECTED WEDNESDAY.

A Great Crowd of Delegates Present and Harmony Seems to be the Object and Aim of the Foremost Leaders—Gold Not in It.

THE CONVENTION ORGANIZED.

Lexington, June 3.—The time fixed for calling the convention to order was 2 o'clock solar time, but at least two hours before the cars leading to the Chautauqua were crowded with delegates, and when Chairman Long, of the State Central Committee, stepped to the speaker's stand, every available chair in the delegates' quarters was occupied, while that portion of the building assigned to visitors was crowded to its utmost capacity.

Satori's band made its appearance at 1 o'clock and discoursed sweet music while the delegates slowly filed into their places. The building was fully alive with the throng, and while the crowd in the visitors' section extended outside and entirely around the building until they were packed back a good deep on the side in the first indication of life was the playing of "Old Kentucky Home," and a cheer went up that could be heard a mile around. The right of the hall was an elevated platform, which was filled with the banners of the State. At 1:45 o'clock, started the delegates, led by Chairman Long, of the State Central Committee, rapped for order while the Rev. Dr. Bartlett, of the Presbyterian church, invoked blessing on the occasion.

The Rev. W. Bolling, of the Methodist church had been invited by the free silver men. Prayer was made by Dr. Bartlett, and the chairman's address announced that nominations for temporary chairman were in order, John Rhea, nominated Charles J. Branstetter, Col. Bennett H. Young on the part of Gold men nominated Judge Alex P. Humphrey. The vote being taken resulted 691 for Branstetter and 298 for Humphrey.

Nominations for Secretary were called for and Wm. Cornwall, Earlquest Cassidy, and Dennis Moorman were placed in nomination. On motion all three named were declared Secretaries.

There is likely to be a bitter contest for the presidency between John A. Johnson as the successor to Chairman Long. Although it is known that the Goebel has Blackburn's pledge to stand by Frank, yet it is thought that the general impression is that Goebel is beaten, and that Maj. Johnson will be chosen.

The afternoon sessions this morning, Senator Blackburn was endorsed with remarkable unanimity for President.

COMMITTEES NOT READY TO REPORT.

Lexington, June 3.—In reassembling at 8 p. m. the committees not being ready to report the convention was addressed by Evan Settle, Ollie James, W. P. Thorne, James Tyler and others on the floor. A free silver greeting from the Kansas Democratic convention was read and loudly applauded. At this juncture Chairman Long called the convention to length on the abuses of the silver men in the past two years, but counseled peace and harmony for the future. He believed that all Democrats would be together on the financial as well as all other questions.

At 10:30 o'clock the chairman announced that the committees could not report to-night and the convention adjourned till 9 a. m. to-morrow.

SECOND DISTRICT SLATE.

Lexington, June 3.—The Second district met in the Auditorium on East Main. C. M. Moscham, Chairman of the district committee, called the meeting to order and presided. Lawrence Tanner, of McLean, was made Secretary.

The following slate was put through without any hitch whatever: Delegates to Chicago, J. F. Dempsey, of Hopkinsville, J. E. Davies, of Louisville, T. M. Willingham, of Webster, N. P. Taylor of Henderson, Vice-President of the convention, W. T. Taylor, member of the Committee on Credentials, H. M. Stanley, of Henderson, member Committee on Organization, P. R. Richardson, of Christian, member Committee on Resolutions, Henry Allen, Union.

Electors—C. A. Young, Henderson, Assistant, S. A. Young, Henderson. A motion was carried to recommend W. T. Ellis delegate-at-large to Chicago, and Urey Woodson was recommended for member of National Committee from Kentucky.

COMMITTEES TO REPORT THIS MORNING.

Lexington, Ky., June 3.—A permanent organization of the Convention was not effected. The Committee on permanent organization decided to report in favor of Maj. P. P. Johnson for State Central Chairman and Lexington for headquarters of the Committee will be reorganized and general strike up made in the party.

The Resolutions will endorse Senator Blackburn for president and speak out in ultra free silver member of the Committee will report to the convention to-morrow morning.

CLOSING EXERCISES.

Bethel Female College Entertainments a Brilliant Success.

The series of entertainments given at Bethel College have caused quite a sensation by the unusual brilliancy and variety of the programmes.

Monday evening the annual concert took place in the college chapel. After the excellent programme, which consisted of vocal and instrumental music, a reception which proved an enjoyable affair was given to the young ladies.

Tuesday evening the annual commencement address was given, the seven graduates by Rev. W. P. Hunt, of Louisville. This being somewhat unlike the usual routine commencement addresses, was quite a surprise and won for Mr. Hunt the esteem of all who were so fortunate as to hear him.

The chapel was beautifully draped in the class colors, green and white. Magnolias and orangers were scattered in profusion in every imaginable place.

The address being over, a short talk was made by the president, after which the diplomas and honors were awarded. After a beautiful piano recital by one of the young ladies, the graduates marched into the drawing room where they received the congratulations of their friends.

This college has never sent forth a brighter class of graduates than the seven who received their diplomas on Tuesday night. In addition to those with graduated from the regular course, Miss Jennie Ball completed the course in music, and Misses Mattie Milner and Elsie Torrence in elocution. Five received high qualifications and twelve certificates of honor.

Wednesday afternoon at 4:30 the class tree was planted by the fair graduates with appropriate ceremonies. The class record and prophecy were read, and received with much interest by the large number who were present.

Wednesday night the College chapel was filled to overflowing, the halls and gallery adjoining being crowded with those who could not get seats in the chapel.

The entertainment was unique and charming, and the programme was frequently interrupted by applause. The President, Dr. Edmund Harrison, the new president, was introduced by Dr. McCall, and made a brief announcement of the next term. The college has a new president, Dr. P. P. Johnson, who has completed five years of the most successful work in the history of the College, then stated that he would resign to Frank, yet it is thought that the general impression is that Goebel is beaten, and that Maj. Johnson will be chosen.

The beautiful and artistic decorations which the interior of the building was transformed into a fairy palace were all the creation of Mrs. McCall's cultivated taste, and in the opinion of hundreds who had enjoyed the hospitality of the college, Hopkinsville loses one of its most elegant and charming hostesses when Mrs. McCall leaves. The graduates of the "Kentuckian" and of many friends of all denominations in the city will go with Dr. and Mrs. McCall to their new home in St. Louis, Mo., as they leave our midst.

Two Negroes Lynched.

Clumbus, Ga., June 1.—Two negroes were hung to a tree in the middle of Broad street, the main business thoroughfare of this city and riddled with bullets by an infuriated mob at 10 o'clock this morning. They were Jessie Slayton and William Miles. Last Thursday Slayton outraged Mrs. Howard Bryan, a respectable white woman of this county. He was captured and placed in jail before the crowd looking for him found him.

This morning he was taken to the superior court room for trial. He had been indicted and a jury was being impaneled when the mob rushed up the street and into the court room yelling and brandishing rifles and pistols, seized the terrified man, threw him over the railing and hanged him a hundred yards down Broad street. The body was then swung up to a tree and left dangling there. The crowd then went to the jailer Miles, another negro, who attempted to outrage Mrs. Albright, of this city, a short time ago. The jailer pleaded with the mob to spare him, but he was compelled to surrender the keys and the doomed man was led to the place where the body of Slayton dangled.

Miles was quickly strung up and the body riddled with a hundred bullets. Miles had been tried and convicted twice in the past, but had been set back by the supreme court on technical points for a new trial. His last trial resulted in a mistrial, and he was in jail awaiting a fourth trial.

Miss Burress Convicted.

Miss Letitia Burress, of this county, was given 18 months in the penitentiary by the Federal court in Owensboro Wednesday, for fraudulently obtaining a pension.

We are authorized to announce
BON. MALCOLM TRUMAN, of Henderson county, as a candidate for
APPELLATE JUDGE in the First District, subject to the action of the Democratic party.

In fifty-one of the ninety-two counties of Indiana, the Democrats have held conventions, and in every instance free silver coinage delegates have been appointed to the State convention with instructions to vote only for free silver coinage men for places on the State ticket and for delegates to the National convention at Chicago.

The House Tuesday by a vote of 220 to 60 passed the River and Harbor Bill over the President's veto. Twenty-five Republicans voted to sustain the veto. Thirty-nine Democrats voted to pass the bill, among them Berry, Owens and Kendall, of Kentucky.

The goldbug idea is that the hard times are due, not to lack of money, but to want of confidence. This reminds us of the contention of Mulberry Sellers that all we need is the appearance of heat, not the heat itself.—Commercial Appeal.

The acoustic properties of the convention hall in Chicago are said to be all right, and the twenty thousand Democrats who can be comfortably seated will have no difficulty next July in hearing distinctly the speeches nominating the next President.

By a vote of 32 to 25 the Senate passed the Butler Bill to prohibit the issue of interest-bearing bonds without the further authority of Congress. Many amendments were offered to the measure, but all were voted down.

Mr. Morgan Young has decided to engage in journalism at Madisonville. He will be joined by his uncle, W. M. Young, of Louisville, and under the firm name of Z. Morgan Young & Co., the twice-a-week Madisonville Mail will appear about June 15.

Prof. Bauman, an expert insurance adjuster of Chicago, after looking over the field in St. Louis, says the total loss will foot up over $200,000. Prof. Bauman adjusted the losses caused by the Louisville tornado about seven years ago.

It begins to look as if Boies and Blackburn will make up the Democratic presidential slide. If so every Southern and Western State may be counted in the Democratic column.—Bowling Green Advocate.

The big auditorium, built in St. Louis for the Republican national convention, has been fully repaired since the tornado and is ready for use.

Henry Mitchell Smith, the negro convicted of a criminal assault on Mrs. Hudson last summer, was hanged at Lexington Tuesday. He met death coolly, and asserted his innocence to the last.

The House decided the Mitchell-Walsh contest came from the Eighth New York district. Walsh, Democrat, was defeated and Mitchell, Republican, sworn in as a member.

The Clarksville Daily Times has changed its form and now appears as an eight-page, six-column paper, full of local and general news, with a liberal share of advertising.

The Tobacco Leaf Chronicle's special Centennial edition was a beauty and showed a good stroke of enterprise on its proprietor, Mr. W. W. Barksdale.

Clairborne Lawson, aged fourteen years, and Annie Kane, aged thirteen, were married in Tennessee last week. The young pair live in a large celt or hole in a bluff on the Cumberland river.

The monthly treasury statement shows that the public debt has increased $3,188,730 during May.

The man who had a narrow escape at St. Louis last Tuesday night is still bobbing up at every cross-roads.

Free silver will be in a majority at Chicago and will control the coinage plank in the platform. Carlisle's influence in Kentucky went by default. Gorman, outside of Maryland, is doing nothing. Brice sees defeat ahead of him. Herbert fell down in Alabama. Morton was unable to pull Nebraska through. Wilson cannot take West Virginia his way. Harmon concedes Ohio. Hoke Smith has failed in Georgia and Hill's voice will not be hearkened unto of New York State. The platform and the candidate will be dictated by the silver men. Good fortune and good management will give them absolute control at Chicago.—Messenger.

J. D. Harrington, once a prominent member of the Louisville bar, is dead.

The Gazette, a weekly paper which has been published at Horse Cave, will in the future be issued from the little town of Smith's Grove.

"Bob" Taylor says he will defeat any opponent for election as chief executive of Tennessee not less than 30,000 votes.

The cotton crop report for the Memphis district shows an increased average of 28 per cent.

Madison county Republicans instructed for J. Speed Smith for Congress and A. R. Burman for Appellate Judge.

Thos. L. Barret, President of the Bank of Kentucky, the foremost financier of Louisville, died Tuesday, of neuritis of the heart.

The trial of David Belasco's suit against N. K. Fairbank for $55,000 for training Mrs. Leslie Carter for the stage, has begun at New York. President Cleveland has appointed Abe Seren, of New York, to be a Secretary of the Civil Service Commission.

Everyone who will take the trouble to cut out this notice and forward it, with a cent, to the address below, will receive a complimentary copy of Democrat's Magazine, containing a Pattern Order which entitles the holder to any pattern illustrated in any number of the Magazine published during the past twelve months, at the uniform price of four cents each, and frequently over thirty patterns are illustrated in one number, thus affording an almost unlimited variety to select from. Democrat is published for $2 a year, by the Democrat Publishing Company, 110 Fifth Avenue, New York.

Table Talk, the little magazine which upholds woman's interests by being "up-to-date" in everything pertaining to the home, and especially everything having reference to the dining room and kitchen, again shows its progressiveness throughout the current issue. Its timely articles on "Camp Life for Girls," by Mrs. Van Court Schuyler; "Kindergarten in Neighborhood Work," by Nora Archibald Smith; "Gorman Markets," by Lucy A. S. Geise; "Summer Deserts," by Eliza Parker, in addition to the regular departments containing recipes, menus and entertainments, makes the June number of special value. Housekeepers unacquainted with Table Talk should avail themselves of the publishers' offer to send readers of a sample copy free to any care sending their address to Table Talk Publishing Co., Philadelphia.

The June Ladies' Home Journal is exceptionally interesting and attractive—both in its literary and pictorial features. The front cover, in perfect harmony with the fragrant sentiment of the month of roses, is a Salon painting by M. Albert Aublet, a celebrated French artist, in a decorative frame of striking beauty. This rich touch of nature is supplemented by A. B. Frost's characteristic drawing illustrating James Whitcomb Riley's poem, "Cassander," and by groups of poses, among which Miss Waddell's muse sings with charming freshness. M. Woolf, the famous humorist, also contributes a page of his wails—his first to the Journal—investing as he always does, the elements of the poem with humorous and pathetic interest. Along the more serious lines are "The Pardoning Power and Impotence," both of which are comprehensively discussed, and John Gilmer Speed's article on "Conducting a Great Hotel," in which the writer gives some surprising statistics and a behind-the-scenes view of running a big hotel.

The Plant System's Passenger Traffic Manager Remembered By The Editors.

A Gold Watch, Chain and Charm Which Have a History-Record of Security Page and Col. Wren.

[From the Savannah Morning News.]
When the National Editorial Association was South last winter Col. B. W. Wren, Passenger Traffic Manager of the Plant System, extended various courtesies to the members, in recognition of which the association presented him a handsome gold watch and chain and a gold charm.

In presenting them Secretary Page of the editorial association, wrote Col. Wren this letter:

Jerseyville, Ill., Feb. 26, 1896.—Mr. B. W. Wren, Passenger Traffic Manager Plant System, Savannah, Ga.: My Dear Mr. Wren.—To the sentiment unanimously expressed by the delegates to the National Editorial Association before leaving Tampa, Fla., which was as follows: "The Plant System, as its name implies, grows rusty. May the burning never stop to the sides of its ships. May the sweet songs of the Wrens be heard along the line from terminal to terminal. May Henry B. (Bentley) for our hearts for his very pleasing and to our souls. They are desiring to add: "May his ships never arrive at an hour when he is not on hand. Watch the track. Watch the traffic. And to assist you in doing this, find here a watch, chain and charm, as a slight token of appreciation of the delegates to the eleventh annual session of the National Editorial Association for the many courtesies and favors shown them by you while touring through Florida over the Plant System."

Yours respectfully,
Col. Sec. N. E. A.
Col. Wren's reply, in which he acknowledges the compliment paid him is a characteristic of his.

At 12 West Twenty-third street, New York, May 16, 1896.—Mr. J. M. Page, Secretary National Editorial Association, Jerseyville, Ill.: My Dear Sir.—Surely one must be insensible to all impulses of gratitude not to be overawed by the great and noble gift of the National Editorial Association and the generous compliments of your presentation. Happily in the effort to convey to you the full measure of my appreciation, I can but say, in awkward, yet sincere speech, I thank you. The handsome watch, chain and Mosaic charm make princely gifts and voice a spirit of good fellowship and social sympathy that are irrefragable.

When the members of the National Editorial Association decided to visit the west coast of Florida last winter and accepted the invitation of our worthy president, Mr. H. B. Plant, to travel over the lines of the Plant System, it was a pleasant privilege for me, in his absence, to meet them and extend to them, on their visit to the land of sunshine, fruits and flowers, such a warm and cordial welcome as lay within our power to give, and to feel more than compensated by the great pleasures of our associations there and the friendly friendships renewed and extended.

When, on leaving Tampa Bay Hotel you gave utterance to the sentiment quoted in your letter, up to the Plant System felt such gratification and happiness in your society that we regretted keenly your departure, and it was with much difficulty that I could separate from you, and now that you have reached the climax of your pleasant hospitalities, the former host becomes the guest and modestly bows acknowledgment.

The altogether charming present will long be treasured as a high remembrance by me, and throughout the years of its faithful and acceptable service shall always bring memories of our very fraternal association in Florida. I am, with sincere respect and friendship, yours truly,

B. W. WREN,
Passenger Traffic Manager.

We call the following from The State, published at Richmond, Va.:

"Prof. Edmund Harrison left yesterday for Hopkinsville, Ky., to take charge of Bethel Female College. He will stop in Orange to visit his old friend and former associate, Prof. Puryear. The members of Mr. Harrison's family are still here, but will join him at Hopkinsville later.

And this from the Times, of same place:

QUALITY OF CYPRESS WOOD.

The Trees Are Notoriously Slow Growing, But Are Durable.

The cypress is a notoriously slow growing tree, and its wood is just as notoriously durable, says an exchange. It is capable of not only resisting the action of the weather in a manner totally different to all woods, but is wholly uninfluenced by immersion in water over a long period of years. It has many curious chemical properties, which hold its fibers and other constituents together so indissolubly that the ordinary changes which break down the tissues of ordinary woods are in cypress wholly resisted.

Instances are known where the wood of cypress has endured for more than 1,000 years, leaving it still in a solid condition, subject only to the attrition of the elements, such as the gradual wearing away, one sees in exposed rocks. In the lower valley of the Mississippi a species of cypress is extremely abundant, and in New Orleans lately, while some men were excavating a trench, a cypress stake was found which was erected in 1730 by the French as a protection against the Indians. Some of the pieces measured 21 inches in width, with a thickness of about 12 inches, and, though it had been buried for 30 many years, it was in perfect condition when exhumed, even the tool marks being still clearly visible.

By a series of experiments extending over many years, it has been found the cypress wood endures the varying conditions of greenhouses better than any other wood. Greenhouses exposed to all the vicissitudes of heat, moisture and changes of temperature, show the cypress timber used in their construction to be practically unchanged after more than 50 years of use; and, being sufficiently tough for the purpose, it is probable it will come more generally into use for building where a wood of great resisting power is required. Many old doors made by the early Spaniards in America are still as serviceable as ever, although exposed to a most trying climate.

AUSTRIAN WOMEN BARBERS.

They Must Serve a Three-Year's Apprenticeship.

The Austrians take no chances with their barbers, says the New York World. They must be good, and the barbers' and wig-makers' union of Vienna sees to it that they are. Provision is also made in their code for women barbers who desire to carry on the business of their hands in case of the latter's death or illness.

"But in order to do this, the wife must have been enrolled in the union as an apprentice for three years. Apprentices, by the rules of the union, must appear in Vienna in the presence of judges of the union and show their skill before they are allowed to open shops of their own."

A properly certified barber must have a knowledge of and pass an examination in shaving, hair-cutting, hair-curling and wig-making, and during the period before the issuance of a certificate the poor and others who are frugal serve as subjects for experiment.

At the examination the young men have their razors dulled by four strokes in a glass plate, and they must then sharpen them. A subject is assigned to each, who must be tonsorially perfect, in the opinion of judges, when the apprentice has released him.

After this a certificate is issued and the apprentice serves two years as a journeyman before he may open a shop as an employer. The average age of apprentices when they begin to learn their trade is 13 years.

A Hard Task.

A vessel being ready for sailing, the captain ordered a new hand to take a boat to shore and buy ten shillings' worth of vegetables. Not being certain of the meaning of the word, the man appealed to the first individual he met: "I say, mate, what might vegetables be?"

"Vegetables?" the stranger replied. "Why, peas are vegetables, for instance."

"That'll do," said Jack.

Having got his sack filled with peas, he pulled back to the ship, and when alongside the captain called out: "Have you got those vegetables?"

"Yes, sir."

"All right," said the captain. "Then hand them up one by one."

"Be and," said Jack, scratching his head, "I have got a job now and no mistake!"—London Telegraph.

The largest sum paid for a picture during the past season is the 10,000 guineas given for Gainsborough's "Lady Mulgrave," a small canvas measuring only 20 inches by 24. This is the largest sum ever given for a picture of this class. Cornelius Vanderbilt was the buyer.

Wordsworth gave the world a volume of poetry at 23, and some of his lines were much better than any he wrote afterward.

NICKNAMES OF STATES.

How Some of Our Commonwealths Obtained Their Designation.

State nicknames in this country have begun to lose their aptness, says the New York Herald. Now Hampshire's name, the "granite state," fits almost as well as some other mountainous states, and she never really deserved to be called the Switzerland of America, since her mountains are but hills compared with the mountains of Switzerland.

Scrutiny of the Rocky mountain states more nearly deserve this title. Colorado, for example, has 41 mountains more than 14,000 feet high, and in all, 139 mountains more than 13,500 feet high. Colorado's own name, the centennial state is one that no other can ever dispute with her, though it looks as if Colorado might dispute the name of "golden" with California.

Maine's forests are disappearing so rapidly that some of the northwestern states may soon have a better title to the name "pine tree state." There are more famous bays than that of Massachusetts, and certainly Chesapeake bay, if considered only as a body of water, has more distinction than Massachusetts, and, historically, the Chesapeake is quite as famous, so that the name "bay state" might, with aptness, be given to Maryland.

There are quite as characteristic green mountains elsewhere in the United States as those that gave Vermont her French name. The "empire state" seems inappropriate to any democratic community, but it is appropriate to New York, if to any state of the union, and it is likely to be a long while before even Texas can lay claim to the title. The state that Texas takes pride in, "the lone star state," is certainly hers by right, as she is the only state to have come to be an independent republic, totally unconfederated with any other state.

Delaware is no longer the key-stone of the union's arch, just as it is no longer politically true as Pennsylvania goes so goes the union. If Delaware ever deserved her name of the "diamond state," she certainly cannot claim it against Rhode Island, since the latter is not so much smaller, but, as well, much richer.

No state disputes Virginia's picturesque name, the "old dominion," though few people realize that it dates back to a time when our Atlantic coast knew only two ill-defined political divisions—New England and Virginia. Old backeyes are no longer a distinguishing feature of her rapidly disappearing woodlands. Indiana is being civilized out of her hoosierdom, and wolverine must be pretty scarce in this state to which the best has given a nickname.

Connecticut has learned so many smart tricks since the days of the traditional wooden stumps that her neighbors could easily discover an apt name of reproach. Louisiana, doubtless has as many pelicans as Florida or any other state, and so may well hold to her nickname, while North Carolinians are properly enough called tar heels, since their state is still famous for tar and kindred products.

The foregoing is another of those old saws that have played out. At the prices now ruling on both horses and carriages the rich and the poor, the high and the low can ride. One has only to be judicious and careful as to and he can well afford to buy a buggy in this good year of 1896. If you want THE BEST we have it. If you want the cheapest we have that. In both cases you get the best for your money. If you want a narrow dudish affair that will bring you and your best girl in closer relations we can sell you one. If you are the

The Knife Not Needed.

A MASSACHUSETTS TOWN HEARS AND WONDERS.

What a Miracle Was There! Twisted Limbs and a Crooked Neck Straightened.

From the Franklin Mass. Gazette.
Over in the town of Wrentham, Mass., everyone is agog with excitement. A child who had been physically deformed for four years, and who was the object of the pity of the entire town, has had his limbs straightened out, his head again made erect by the straightening of his neck, and is running about town now with the freedom and abandon of other children.

Mary S. Fuller is the name of the little girl. Many of our readers will remember her. She is but a child of five years, and has spent the past four years in bed, hopelessly crippled. Rheumatism of her four years ago attacked the nerves and caused her limbs to become stiff and twisted. Her limbs were drawn all out of shape and twisted and bent backward in a pitiable manner; and the cords of the latter were so tightened on one side as to draw her head down on her shoulder. Her arms, too, were helpless, and neighbors' hearts bled at the sight of her suffering. The progress of the disease rendered her to a skeleton, and the poor mother has almost given her own life for that of the child, in her untiring watching at the little bed. Four years of agonizing four years of waiting! and at last the child began to mend, her cords relaxed, her nervous system gathered strength and power, and today, as she stands up, it is as if she were the same vigorous and happy child. When the torments, physicians applied, and new methods in nerve treatment have been successfully radiated. Formerly the surgeon would have been called on in this case to straighten the limbs. Now the idea is to work in harmony with nature so far as possible, and to this end, the child was treated with the gentlest of means. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People were used, and effected the cure easily and naturally.

The mother of the child said: "She had been given up by four doctors, who were certain that they could not cure her. Why she could not open her mouth, and I actually had to force the food into it. Her mouth was all sore, and, oh dear, what a looking child she was, and such a cry. Nobody but myself knew what a trial we both have been through, for she was too young to realize it. If my statement will do anybody any good I shall be glad to have it published, and if those who read it will only send me, if they are able, a few lines, they will find it very little time that I know what I am talking about. For I am now, as you see, a healthy and happy child."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills contain all the elements necessary to give new life and richness to the blood and restore shattered nerves. They are for sale by all druggists, or may be had by mail from Dr. W. C. Williams, Medicated Compound, Schenectady, N. Y., for $1.00 per box, or $2.00 for six boxes.

EX-PRESIDENTS.

Never More Than Five Were Alive at One Time.

Gen. Harrison has at this moment the distinction of being the only living ex-president, unless indeed the quibble be admitted that Mr. Cleveland himself is at one and the same time both president and ex-president.

Living ex-presidents in this country have usually been scarce, their living ex-kings in Europe. There were never more than five ex-presidents living at one time, and it is more than 34 years since there were so many.

After the death of George Washington, December 14, 1799, there was no living ex-president, until the retirement of John Adams, in 1801. He was the sole living ex-president until Jefferson joined him in 1809. There were these two during the two terms of Madison, from 1809 to 1817, and Madison, with them, made three during the two terms of Monroe, from 1817 to 1825. There were four living ex-presidents during the first 16 months of the term of John Quincy Adams, both John Adams and Thomas Jefferson died July 4, 1825, the first deaths among ex-presidents since the death of Washington, a quarter of a century before. There have been since then no such gaps between the deaths of ex-presidents. For the rest of John Quincy Adams' term there were only two living ex-presidents. After his retirement in 1829 and up to July 4, 1831, when Monroe died, the third ex-president to die on the national holiday, there were three living.

Monroe and John Quincy Adams were the living ex-presidents until June 28, 1836, when Madison died, and John Quincy Adams was the sole one until Jackson's retirement in 1837. These two were joined by Van Buren in 1841, and there were three living ex-presidents until March 4, 1849, when Tyler retired, making four. Jackson's death, June 8, of that year, reduced the number again to three, and so continued until February 23, 1849, when the death of John Quincy Adams reduced the number of living ex-presidents to two. He had lived 19 years after retiring from the presidency, and his father had lived only six years after retiring, though much less active in political life than the son. Van Buren and Tyler were the only living ex-presidents from the death of the second Adams until the retirement of Polk, March 4, 1849, and again from Polk's death, June 15, 1849, until the retirement of Fillmore, March 4, 1853. They, with Fillmore, were the only living ex-presidents until Pierce joined the group, March 4, 1857, and the four became five by the retirement of Buchanan, March 4, 1861.

This is the first and only time that there have been five living ex-presidents. After the retirement of Buchanan to four by the death of Tyler, January 18, 1862, and to three by the death of Van Buren, July 24, 1862. Buchanan's death, June 1, 1868, reduced the number again to two, and it became three by the retirement of Johnson, March 4, 1869. There were but two after the death of Pierce, October 8, 1869, and until March 3, 1874, when Fillmore's death left Johnson the sole surviving ex-president. It had been 37 years since there was only a single ex-president living.

Johnson's death, on July 31 of the following year, left the country for the first time in 74 years without a living ex-president, and it so continued until March 5, 1877, when Grant retired. During the presidency of Hayes Grant was the sole living ex-president. After the retirement of Hayes, March 4, 1881, he and Grant were the only living ex-presidents till Arthur joined them, March 4, 1883, making three. Grant's death, July 23, 1885, reduced the number to two. It so continued until the death of Arthur, November 18, 1886, when Hayes was again the sole living ex-president. Cleveland's retirement March 4, 1889, made two, and the death of Hayes, January 17, 1893, left only one. Since that time Mr. Cleveland or Gen. Harrison has been the sole surviving ex-president.

Gen. Harrison was not the first ex-president to marry. Fillmore came out of the presidential widowhood, his wife married to him about 20 years before, dying in the last month of the term. He afterward remarried, and his second wife survived him. It was rumored shortly before ex-President Arthur's death that he was about to take a second wife, but he died a widower. John Adams was left a widower at 83, 17 years after he left the presidency, and he remained so for the remainder of his long life. Martin Washington outlived the first president. Dolley Madison survived her husband 13 years, and his retirement from the white house 22 years. She died at the age of 83, by which it may be seen that as mistress of the white house, though a charming woman, she was not a young one. The wife of John Quincy Adams survived him four years. Monroe, who was asked what he would like to have as a special favor, and answered, "permission to fish in the Serpentine."

It is related of Millais, the Royal academy's new president, that when, as a boy he took his first prize for drawing he had to stand on a chair to have himself visible to the audience. He was asked what he would like to have as a special favor, and answered, "permission to fish in the Serpentine."

TRANS-SIBERIAN RAILWAY.

Benefits Expected from This Project Now Nearing Completion.

Despite the almost impenetrable secrecy with which Russia has carried on the gigantic and almost insuperable work of constructing the great Trans-Asian railway, it has leaked out that this imposing project is rapidly nearing completion, saving the New York Mail and Express. All well remember the time in 1891, when the new czarist turned the first sod for the much talked about enterprise. Since that time the work of construction has been pushed from both ends of the line.

From Vladivostok, the sanguine inhabitants of which delight to think that their little town will yet become another Constantinople, the line has been carried up the Ussury branch of the Amur river. At the west end of the line track laying has advanced beyond Tomsk. It has been reported by unofficial Russian sources that this longest railroad in the world, being 4,550 miles in length, will be completed in 1897. This is scarcely to be credited. A study of the map would seem to warrant the belief that at least a decade will elapse before the last rail is laid and the last spike is driven. Though Russia has talked for many years of this grandiose project, the enterprise in its practical aspects did not take definite shape until 1891. In 1892 the czar appointed the first finance minister, headed by the minister of finance, to carry through the work.

It is estimated by Russian officials that the entire road will cost 300,000,000 rubles, about one-tenth of which, they say, will be expended every year until the great work is finished. The road is certain to be a heavy drain upon the state treasury at first, and it may not be operated at a profit for a century to come. But the Russians are bent on completing this colossal enterprise. It is certain that they have made no mistake. In many ways its far-reaching results will redound to the enormous advantage of the empire. The colonization of Siberia, the development of its mines and agriculture, the opening of markets for Russian industries, the intensifying and extending of Russian influence in Turkestan, Mongolia and Manchuria, and the diversion of a part of the trade of Japan and Corea to Russian territory, these and other results are among the ends which the Russians have in view in connection with this gigantic railway scheme.

As to the future, Russia thinks that by means of this railway she will be able to control most of the European Asiatic trade. There are facts favorable to this expectation. For instance, it takes 30 days to transport freight from Shanghai to Vancouver, thence over the Canadian Pacific and across the Atlantic to Europe. By the more usual route through the Suez canal to Genoa and Marseilles, it takes from 43 to 46 days. Now the Russians claim that from Shanghai to Vladivostok and across Siberia by rail freight can be transported to Europe in from 18 to 20 days.

In addition to these interesting trade considerations, all of which seem quite alluring, there are grounds of political and military expediency, which, to Russia, no doubt, require that the vast outlay required for the construction of this mammoth railway. Russia seldom throws away money or opportunities.

An Angel Without Wings.

One of the principal decorative features of the new city hall in San Francisco was to have been a great white-metall angel, with outspread wings poised on top of the big dome. This angel has been the subject of much crabbled controversy between the gruff mayor, Mr. Sutro, and the commissioners. The mayor criticized the angel severely and rather ridiculed the whole thing. But the big angel was at last finished and ready for hoisting to its place on the dome. Then it was discovered that its wings offered too much sail space, and that they would undoubtedly in the first high wind pull the angel down from its perch. The shoulder blades were too narrow for the wings to be properly braced. So the wings were sawed and the wingless angel will surmount the dome.

A Damaging Song.

Bowery merchants claim that the effect of the song, "The Bowery," has been to seriously depreciate property values along that thoroughfare. They claim that strangers to the city believe the words of the song, and have come to regard the business men on the Bowery as brigands and bunco operators.—N. Y. Mail and Express.

Wanted to Go Fishing.

It is related of Millais, the Royal academy's new president, that when, as a boy he took his first prize for drawing he had to stand on a chair to have himself visible to the audience. He was asked what he would like to have as a special favor, and answered, "permission to fish in the Serpentine."

The Chattanooga, Tenn. Times, in a recent issue, has the following concerning Dr. Phillips and wife, who recently moved from Pembroke to New Creek, Tenn.

"Rev. J. M. Phillips, D.D., an expatriate of the First Baptist church, has been in the city in attendance at the convention. He has been warmly greeted by both new and old friends, but especially has he been welcomed by the members of his old church who were singularly devoted to him in other years and remember him still with warmest affection. The wife of Dr. Phillips, known to the world of letters as Mrs. Lucy Dayton Phillips, a gifted writer and successful authoress, is with him in the city, and has already received an ovation from her host of admirers. She is a woman of charming manners, of the most noble and graceful presence, and has created a marked impression on the many readers of her works, who have been so fortunate as to see her face to face. Her recent book, 'The Road of Gold,' has had a wide circulation, and it is said she is about to issue another, which it is prophesied, will receive the most flattering reception from Baptist readers and scholars. The present home of Dr. Phillips and wife is Mossy Creek, Tenn."

Her recent book, 'The Road of Gold,' has had a wide circulation, and it is said she is about to issue another, which it is prophesied, will receive the most flattering reception from Baptist readers and scholars. The present home of Dr. Phillips and wife is Mossy Creek, Tenn."
